Prostate Cancer: Men Get It.

Annual Prostate Cancer Screening Saves Lives

One in six men will get prostate cancer, but if caught early, nearly 100% survive.

Early prostate cancer has no symptoms, that's why screening is so important.

African American men have an even higher risk: one in four men.

Keep prostate cancer out of your future: fight for a cure now.

BnBFinder.com Encourages Travelers to Fight Prostate Cancer

This September, travelers can help raise money for the prostate cancer cause just by staying at their favorite Bed & Breakfast. In a unique opportunity for B&B travelers, NPCC has joined forces with BnBFinder.com to offer the chance to wake up someplace special while raising funds and awareness for prostate cancer research.

"Prostate cancer will affect nearly 200,000 men this year nationwide," said National Prostate Cancer Coalition CEO Richard N. Atkins, M.D. "NPCC is thrilled to partner with BnBFinder.com and innkeepers from coast to coast to raise funds and increase awareness of the importance of prostate cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment."

Prostate Cancer Awareness Survey

Please take our annual Prostate Cancer Awareness Survey to help us better understand how to serve prostate cancer patients. Additionally, what we can learn about patients and advocates can enable us to better establish strong corporate partnerships to help us fight prostate cancer and ultimately find a cure. All surveys are completely anonymous.

Get in the G.A.M.E.

NPCC is reaching out to help men with prostate cancer understand that clinical trials may be an important option to consider.

A recent survey of prostate cancer patients shows that only a very small percentage of patients -- about 12 percent of men with prostate cancer -- know that clinical trials are an option.
